One visit to the Eternal City is all it takes to be transformed by the timeless beauty, history, and energy that is Rome. Rome is a vast open-air exhibition teeming with monuments of all periods: Imperial, Classical, Renaissance, Baroque, and Modern. In addition to ancient monuments and stunning architecture you'll also find a wide choice of museums, art galleries and religious art. The challenge is to take in as much as you can without becoming overwhelmed a challenge indeed.

The profusion of Renaissance and Baroque art works commissioned and collected by popes and prosperous Roman families over 500 years have been preserved and presented in their original surroundings, which are themselves original works of art.

Take for example The Borghese Gallery, housing one of the finest painting and sculpture collections in Italy. Drawn from the collection assembled by Cardinal Scipione Borghese during the 16th -17th centuries, the Borghese includes paintings by Rafael, Titian, Correggio and Caravaggio. Among the impressive sculptures is Bernini's Truth Unveiled by Time and Apollo and Daphne. The entire villa and its contents were bought by the state and recently reopened after a 14 year renovation.

The magnificent Galleria Colonna was begun in 1654 and took 50 years to complete. The Gallery was conceived as a work of art and the magnificent Baroque setting contributes to its collection of masterpieces.

Above all stands the Vatican Museums with their fabulous masterpieces in palaces originally built for Renaissance popes such as Julius II, Innocent VIII and Sixtus IV. The Sistine Chapel and Raphael's Rooms and Loggias are reason alone to visit Rome. A full day is required when you include St Peter's Basilica in your visit to the Vatican.

Another mandatory stop includes The Capitoline Museum with splendid Greek and Roman sculptures in two palaces designed by Michelangelo: The Palazzo Nuovo and the Palazzo dei Conservatori. Some of the art and archeological finds have resided on Capitoline Hill since the 15th century, making this one of the oldest museums in the world.

A momentary rest stop is recommended after visiting the Capitoline. Review the ARTWISE® Rome Museum Map for a minute to locate yourself. You will see from the map it makes sense to wander down to the adjacent Roman Forum to explore Imperial Rome. Also note that the map shows it's not too far to walk up and over to S. Pietro in Vincoli, the elegant renaissance church which happens to contain the powerful sculpture of Moses by Michelangelo. This is where the ARTWISE® Rome Museum Map comes in handy, by connecting all the cultural dots for you, allowing you to see more and work less.

Many more listings are covered in the ARTWISE® Museum Map of Rome. The detailed map of central Rome will transform your walks into self guided cultural tours. The map's index lists all museums, galleries and churches containing master artworks by Michelangelo, Bernini and others. Each listing contains the address, map reference, telephone, hours, admission charge information and a brief description of the highlights of each collection. To aid navigation, an inset map of the Rome metro system is included to better serve your travels around the city. This stylish map will enable you to visit more museums and church art than by any other means.
