Each entry comes with its own brief description, and a basic map helps the reader get their bearings and make plans.

The William Brown Project is photographer and GQ contributor Matthew Hranek's online alter-ego, a huntin', shootin', fishin', eatin', drinkin' and shoppin' character equally at home in the woods, on the river or downing cocktails in Manhattan bars. This map takes in vintage clothing stores, restaurants, cafés and bars, each entry personally selected and carefully described.

Printed on a single sheet of 100% recycled paper, these light, portable guides are an ideal travelling companion.
