We Were Here is a collection of stories that proves that young children's imagination knows no bounds. Compiled from the works of young writers grades two to four, the pieces you'll find between these covers are only snippets of the extraordinary talent, creativity, and maturity these young writers possess. Their ideas and visions are now bound together in a collective voice that proudly makes its mark on the literary world, and assures their readers that, while they are small, their words can make a big difference. This book was designed and edited by interns at Writopia Lab DC; they, along with Writopia's fantastic instructors, were privileged to work one-on-one with many of the young authors during workshops.
